

No winners names, no results published in the papers.

The pennant season is almost over, congratulations must go to the side captained by Biaggio Pitruzzello that has won a place in the finals. The first knockout final will be played on Sunday 30th May. Some/Any supporters would be welcome.

Billy Linton's scratch side just missed out but Billy was very happy with the endeavour of his side; Billy's words 'we came, we saw, we were beaten but we gave them hell and never thought of surrender' showed how proud he was of their efforts. Players used were Billy, Barry Coley, Tim and Chris McManus, David and Stephen Lucas, Paul Telford and Tony O'Brien.

The pennant season would not be complete without the Catering manager's report. The report should read " We fed them all without any complaints" In fact all the visiting teams commented on how good the food was. The gourmet touch was the Ham steaks and Pineapple.

Robin at times was desperate for a cook and/or assistants but volunteers/conscripts read the play and made themselves available. A job well done Robin. The beer and soft drinks were always cold also.

The 9 Holers continue to grow in numbers; A new couple Jim and Bronwyn [or should it be Bronwyn and Jim] have joined and Jack Breen has convinced his sister Frankie that Sunday morning golf is the way to go; now all we need is Steph. to get that shoulder right and get out playing again.

Being out of action for awhile, I have no idea how the Alpha-bet sweep is going, it would be a safe bet that Margaret Hamilton would be near the leaders and Richard Ghiller will be near last. [As usual]

I would like to thank all those golfing mates that contacted me, Nancy or Robin and yes I will be back shortly, snooping around for gossip for the newsletter and having a game of golf now and then. I don't know who made the selection but that get well card was sick.

Something will have to be done about having out results in the paper, I have heard that one of our most promising, young players Haydn Donohue won one week but never saw his name in print, cost him a fortune buying papers.

Is it true David McCoid has received a promotion; he is now assistant Catering manager to Robin. Congratulations David.

Enjoy your time in the sun Denise; we will keep our eyes on Jon for you.
