The Gary Trevino Memorial Shield: - Craig Coffey. 9 Holvers: - Michael O’Haire.

Just a few comments on some of our recent winners, Well done Lachlan Winnall who had a hole-in –one at his Saturday course Melbourne Airport [nee Tullamarine] Craig Coffey won both his events against Sam Commando, a case of Blueswobbles against nerves of steel. Jim Murphy knows how Sam felt; Jim has had a few seconds but finally broke through for a win. Good to see Michael O’Haire have his first win and he did it without his coach, advisor and severest critic Paul. There is no truth in the rumour Paul is suffering from Soup poisoning.

Welcome back Nancy and Geoff Dams who have been holidaying and doing some Grandchild sitting, now they are ready for a big season of golf and a few Cascades. Kylie paid us a visit; she is worried about the length of Gary Chappell’s mullet. Rob. Watson made a rear appearance, won a few golf balls and made the long, long trip home, probably to boast to his neighbour Michael Belia.

She is back and winning golf balls, Steph.admits she was not made to be a caddy but Hodgie says she had it easy, all Steph. had to do was pick up the clubs he threw. I had the pleasure of watching the worlds best Monday to Friday putter in action last week, Colin Chua never misses on the practice green but don’t ask him what happens on Sundays.

The treatment of David Lucas was a disgrace; just because he failed to make the Ladies tee on the 14th. hole, there is no need to rubbish him and yes he did pay up. One of his playing partners [mate?] has the date 11th.July 2004 and the time was 12.28 That’s what mates are for, Budgie did the same on the 2nd that day and nothing was said.

The Catering staff had their finest hour recently, Robin and Richard on the b-b-q, Jonathan's wife had the soup simmering nicely and Denise was in charge of the frypan and fried onions, she did relent and offer some of her onions to close friends

The aroma of all this cooking almost drove Graham crazy, he covered miles going back and forth from the cooking area to the pro shop, the aroma got to Michael Lawn also as he was seen devouring a huge Ham and Pineapple roll, all this went on and Darren did all the pro shop work. [As usual]

The Catering staff has been very worried about one of their best customers, Craig Renfrey, he has regained his appetite so all is well.

The sparks were flying between two old sparkies [electricians] as they discussed what good golfers they are, the recently retired Bruce Arrowsmith and the retired but not retired Peter Mcleod. Enjoy it Bruce, It is a great new life.
